That each state was sovereign, and had full right to secede at pleasure, and without cause. 6. That the people in the Free States were very strongly anti-slavery in opinion, and hostile to the South. What were the actual facts as to each of said claims, up to and in 1860-1861? The Facts as to Claim One Every act of Congress as to any territory of the United States passed between March 4, 1789, and March 4, 1861, except that of 1798, organizing Mississippi as a territory, was approved by a president of the United States who was born in a slave state, was himself a slaveholder, and was popular in and approved by the South, except Presidents Van Buren, Fillmore, Pierce, and Buchanan. The acts passed during the administrations of said four Northern born presidents were approved by the South; Van Buren, Pierce, and Buchanan each received a large majority of the electoral votes of the South. The legislation in President Fillmore's time...

Reviews

Extensive information for book fans. It is written in basic words and never hard to understand. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

This publication is great. It is full of wisdom and knowledge. You will not really feel monotony at any time of the time (that's what catalogs are for relating to when you ask me).
